

Lexington's Community Garden Locations

Lexington's two community gardens are administered through Lexington's Conservation Division and coordinated by volunteers. For more information, visit www.lexingtonma.gov/conservation/conland.cfm or contact the Lexington Conservation Division at: landstewards@lexingtonma.gov, 781-862-0500 x 240, 1625 Massachusetts Avenue, Lexington, MA 02420.

Idylwilde Garden

The Idylwilde community garden is located on Idylwilde conservation area between Middle Street and Lincoln Street. A small parking area is available off of Middle Street. The garden offers 20' x 20' full plots and 10' x 10' half plots. The garden has spring plowing, perennial strips for each plot, perimeter fencing, and access to water.

Legend

- Trail on conservation land
- Conservation land
- Trail on other land
- Other Town land
- Community Garden

Dunback Meadow Garden

The Dunback Meadow community garden is located on Dunback Meadow conservation area approximately 1/4 mile from Allen Street. On-street parking is available along Allen Street near the Dunback Meadow sign and gate. The garden offers approximately 20' x 20' plots with individual plot fencing and access to water.

Data provided by the Office of Geographic and Environmental Information (MassGIS), Commonwealth of Massachusetts Executive Office of Environmental Affairs and the Town of Lexington. The information is provided as a reasonably accurate point of reference, but is not intended to represent authoritative location. The Town of Lexington shall not be held responsible for the accuracy or misuse of these data.